Bixby Scores Preparedness.

A. L. Bixby, former North Platte resident, now the State Journal philosopher and poet, is feminist President Wilson in his preparedness program. The Journal says:

"President Wilson's and all other preparedness programs were given a solar plexus blow by A. L. Bixby in an address before nearly 800 men at the Oliver theatre Sunday afternoon. At the close of his address there was no remaining doubt as to where and how Mr. Bixby stood on the war question. That war preparation is in reality war; that to handle the implements of war must contaminate one with war itself; that the navy league, sponsor of the elaborate preparedness program, is an organization founded and encouraged for individual and corporate gain; that there is no call for preparedness and that the war infection that had taken hold of politicians had even caused 'our usually level headed president to turn from a policy of peace to one of moderate preparedness and from that to a clear cut advocacy of the biggest navy in the world' were a few of the high spots touched by the speaker."

Walters Files for Clerk.

C. H. Walters, the well known stock buyer of this city, filed Tuesday afternoon for the republican nomination for county clerk. Mr. Walters is one of the most widely known men in Lincoln county, having lived at Wallace for a number of years prior to coming to North Platte, and since engaging in business here has met and become acquainted with people from all sections of the county. He has excellent clerical ability, well qualified for the position in all respects and will prove a strong candidate.

Lincoln's Only Morning Paper.

The publishers' report that the special $2 a year price now being made for the State Journal is resulting in thousands of new subscriptions. It is not much wonder as that is only about half rate. With the Sunday Journal including the Fiction Magazine and colored comic, the price is only $3.50 a year. The Journal can reach most parts of the state with later news than any other state paper. This will be a wonderful year for newspaper reading, and The Lincoln Journal promises to keep at the head of the procession. Order it today.

Mrs. George E. Prosser was called to Norwalk, O., Wednesday afternoon by the serious illness of her mother, who is ninety years of age.

FARMERS SHOULD TEST THEIR SEED CORN

Very little of the 1915 corn crop in western Nebraska will make good seed. Much of the crop did not mature before frost and scarcely any was fully dried before severe freezing occurred. Corn which was not dry before freezing is either killed or weakened in vitality and therefore unfit for seed.

Farmers are advised not to wait until planting time to find out whether their seed corn will grow. Tests of 100 or more kernels from fifty or more ears should first be made. If the seed is found not to be good, the only way that it can be improved is to test each ear and discard all the poor ears.

The Experiment Substation will assist farmers who wish to determine the vitality of their seed corn. Bring or send 100 or more kernels from a number of ears. If you have any 1914 corn bring a sample of that also. Call upon the Station for advice regarding tests to be made at home. A box of wet sand kept in the living room makes a good tester.

Max Hensolt Married

Max Hensolt, former agent for the American Express company at North Platte, was by his friends called "girl shy" while here, but after leaving this city assumed great courage, vide this notice from a Salt Lake paper:

"A pretty wedding yesterday afternoon took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Fennimore, 1226 E. Fifth South, when their daughter Miss Emma Fennimore was married to Max H. Hensolt at 5 o'clock by the Rev. William Schmooch, pastor of the Evangelical Lutheran church.

Only the members of the immediate family were present, and a prettily appointed wedding supper followed. Pink roses were used in the dainty decorations of the table. Pink roses, carnations and ferns adorned the living rooms.

Mr. and Mrs. Hensolt will be at home in the Wood apartments. The bride belongs to one of Salt Lake's old families and has many friends in the city. Mr. Hensolt is connected with the American Express company.

Brood Sow and Bull Sale.

On February 26, at U. P. barn, Lexington, we will sell 21 pure bred IM-MUNE Poland China and 10 Duroc Jersey gilts. About 20 are bred to farrow in March, the balance in May; also eight Red Poll bulls, yearlings and two year olds. If interested, send for circular. Mrs. A. has a few of her choicest Barred Rocks left.

Harry Wilkinson, of Topeka, Kansas, came Tuesday to attend the funeral of the late Mrs. Elmer Wilkinson, who died in California and was buried here yesterday.

Edison Sixty-Nine Today.

Thomas Alva Edison will celebrate his sixty-ninth birthday today. He is still hale, hearty and active and as deeply interested in what the coming year has in store as a youth with all of life ahead.

Edison was born at Milan, Ohio, on February 11, 1847. He early evinced a love for chemistry and its kindred subjects. Few men have ever run at a swifter pace up the stepping stones to fame. His first employment was as a newsboy on the Grand Trunk Railway where he started on a small weekly paper which at one time had four hundred paid subscribers. He next took up telegraphy and soon became an expert telegrapher. After five years of telegraphy he came to New York where after a short time he sold his first invention for about $40,000. Then he plunged into the realm of invention where his genius seemed to run riot. Take his major inventions as they come:

The Duplex and Quadruplex Telegraphs and the Electromagnet, which revolutionized telegraphy; the Cylinder Phonograph in 1887, now the Diamond Amberola Phonograph; in 1879 the Electric light which needs no words to tell its wonders; in 1891 the Moving Picture, which today as "The Movies," are furnishing amusement to thousands upon thousands; a method of crushing ore, by which rocks weighing as much as ten tons each are reduced to bits in a few seconds; the Storage Battery; then his last and favorite invention, the Diamond Disc Phonograph. From 1869 to the present time Edison has filed more than 1,400 applications for patents.

Just a few years ago Edison resumed his research in acoustics where he left off when he invented the Cylinder Phonograph. He was dissatisfied with the efforts of other inventors in this field. He set before the goal of absolute re-creation of music. After countless experiments and the expenditure of nearly two millions of dollars in experiments alone, Edison announced that he had succeeded in re-creating the human voice. He said that he had found the touchstone of acoustics. The Edison Diamond Disc Phonograph was given to the world as the instrument of music's re-creation.

It has since been proved on numberless occasions that Edison's Re-creation of the human voice cannot be distinguished from the original. For the purpose of demonstrating this, Edison has given Tone Tests all over the United States, in which the artist sings with his or her records it being actually impossible to distinguish the living voice and its re-creation of the Diamond Disc Phonograph.
